C L A S S P O E M

*In this unhappy year of our Lord
When all light flickers out ahead,
And drums of battle sound the beat
For the step of the walking dead.*

*The latest part of the soul of man
Is bared to storm-flash from the sky,
And down white lightning strikes the brand—
The mark is deep! "Thine hour is nigh."*

*But not that pledge, nor is it really
That which we are that makes us strong
To stand secure in fate's despite,
To learn to live well one life long.*

*It is to have had, and to hold,
An image of a youthful spring,
Wherein we grew, and knew as here
The one, the final, song to sing.*

STUDENT COUNCIL

OFFICERS

Guy Randolph	President
Morton Rose	Vice-President
Monroe Taliaferro, Jr.	Secretary

The Student Council is the student government organization of the school and its main purpose is to establish closer connection between the administration and the students. The council attempts to keep in mind the best interests of the school in its representation of the students to the faculty and in the dealing out of just and recommended punishment.

There are three permanent officers heading the council and it is required that the president be a senior. These officers are elected by the school at large while the Sixth Form elects three members, the Fifth Form two, and the Fourth Form one, to complete the organization. One member is also chosen from the Third Form by the council.

Guy Randolph	Secretary

This society is the oldest organization in the school, having been founded in 1903 as a debating club. Later, in 1933, it was changed to the school's only honorary society. Boys deemed worthy of election are named to the society in the spring of their fifth form year. Other boys are elected during their senior year. Election is based on a boy's leadership, influence, and achievement in the school.

Recently it has been the purpose of the society to help the new boys become adapted to the ways of the school and make their friends here.

THE DRAMATIC SOCIETY

The first play of the year, at Thanksgiving, was "See My Lawyer". David Crawford, Lewis Branscomb, George Wolff, and Bobby Carr had leading roles. These were very ably supported by Taylor Hardwick, Oliver Roosevelt, Norman Weir, and Hugh Dickenson.

No play was held during the winter term, but "The Night of January 16th" was presented at the trustee's meeting. This was termed by many the best performance at the school in several years. The lead roles were played by David Crawford, Francis Lipscomb, and William Rickenbacker. Outstanding in the supporting roles were Ned Prentis, Herbert Lewis, Larry Lipscomb, Lowell Prescott, and George Wolff.

The patient and painstaking efforts of Mr. Evans, ably assisted by Mrs. Kleene, were noticeable in both productions. Exceptionally good acting and the excellent work of the stage crew under the direction of Mrs. Brooks also contributed to the season's success. Thanks are also due to Mrs. Jackson for her splendid costuming and make-ups.

THE MITCHELL CABINET

Organized in 1922 to handle the entirety of the school's charity work, the Mitchell Cabinet is wholly supported by funds obtained from the Sunday collections and the sale of refreshments at athletic contests. All during the year the cabinet has given aid to the neediest families in the immediate vicinity of the school. Before Christmas each member, accompanied by a lady of the faculty, makes a visit to one of the needy families, and lists of the necessary requirements are made. Baskets are then filled and distributed to the families.

As usual, a great deal of assistance was afforded by Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Bement and the other ladies of the faculty.

On March 7th the eighth annual Blue and White debate was held before a large audience in the school auditorium. The Whites, supporting the negative side of the question, "Resolved: That Russia and China should have equal voice with the United States and Great Britain at the peace conference following the present war", won the debate. The peculiar side of the debate came when the Blues, in spite of losing the debate itself, won both best speaker awards. The Philip R. Clark prize for best speaker went to Lee Campbell, with Jack Darrow as runner-up. Mr. William Lewis presided as chairman.

THE CHOIR

Although it was slightly smaller than last year's organization, this year's choir nevertheless maintained the high standards set forth by past school choirs. Under the very capable leadership of Mr. Koch the choir exhibited exceptional talent at the Christmas and Easter services, besides rendering many beautiful anthems at the weekly Sunday services. Solos by Stewart Sailor, duets by Sailor and Jack Darrow, and performances by the junior choir enhanced many programs.

In February the choir added its ability to a program held in the Asheville City Auditorium for the benefit of the American Red Cross. This program was broadcast over Station WWNC.

THE PHOTOGRAPHIC SOCIETY

The dark-room facilities of the Photographic Society were increased greatly this year. As a result of the large membership and increased dues, an enlarging machine and a printing machine were added to the club's stock of equipment. Although building materials have been curtailed by government order, the club hopes to remodel its dark-room in the near future.

No fall contest was held this year, but plans are being made for a spring contest in which the club's work may be exhibited to the school and its guests during commencement week.

CQ, CQ, Calling CQ!" When the general call was sounded, thirteen boys formed the Asheville School Radio Club last March. Under the advisorship of Mr. Heedy a room was maintained for the practicing of codes and building of radio equipment.

Each boy, upon application for entrance, was required to take a test on the Morse Code, which he was given one week to learn. On Monday evenings, Mr. Ezra McIntosh, of WWNC, instructed the club on the theory and applications of radio communications equipment.

The club had the use of a 50 watt transmitter, four S-19-R Hallicrafter receivers, one S-29 portable receiver, two Howard receivers, and one S-27 Hallicrafter Ultra-High Frequency receiver which covered the "FM" band. With this equipment, the boys learned to operate a small station.

The Army and Navy needs radio operators and engineers, and these boys have a good background for such a position.

TECHNICAL SOCIETY

The Tech Society was reorganized this year after several years of inactivity. Under the direction of Mr. Heedy it undertook to meet the needs of a rather large group by subdividing its activities into the various departments in which the members were interested. In general, the society worked over chemical and mechanical problems, and many of the members subsequently supplemented the work they had been doing by taking advantage of the gas engine and radio classes that were formed in the winter term.

THE 1941 SEASON

Although faced with an exceptionally formidable schedule the Blue football team turned back, during the current season, all opposition to establish an impressive, unblemished record of nine victories against no defeats. Coupling a powerful aggressive line with a fast, hard-running backfield the Blues formed a combination that was unbeatable. The plunging of fullback Chappell and Billy Ellis's quick sprints around either flank accounted for a considerable proportion of the yardage gained during the season, while a vaunted passing combination composed of "Red" Gantt and end Wilbur Ellis added greatly to the team's success.

Those pillars of strength in the line were, ends Wilbur Ellis and Randolph; tackles Straus and Dickinson; guards Harrison and Prentis, and center Jackson. These stalwarts continuously opened huge holes for the backs, and formed an impregnable defense. The team was ably supported by the following strong reserves: Alexander, Howell, Fitler, Ketchum, Lipscomb, Hendrix, Sailor, Conant, and Hardwick.

B A S K E T B A L L

Compiling one of the most impressive records in school history, the basketball squad accounted for 15 in 18 scheduled games during its current season. The Blues supported a free-scoring offense with a man to man defense which remained impregnable to most opposing quintets.

Steketee and Shell at the forward positions, Bailey at center, and Gantt and Chappell at the guards handled the starting assignments; these members being ably backed by Captain Randolph, Roger Conant, Bob Henderson, Bill Hypes, Harry Allen, and Clewis Howell. Leading the Blue offensive attack throughout the season was lanky pivot man Bill Bailey who compiled a grand total of 197, closely followed by Shell and Steketee, who totaled 154 and 153 points respectively. Gantt, a sterling ball-handler, accounted for 130 points, while Chappell, the Blues guard bulwark, confined himself almost entirely to the defense, although recording 31 points.

The three defeats can be accredited to Mars Hill College, Charlotte High School, and the Duke Freshmen. The Blues gained revenge for two of these encounters but a second contest with Duke was not scheduled. Concluding the season with an impressive victory over Christ School, age-old rivals, several seniors played their last game. Those lost by graduation are Captain Randolph, Chappell, Steketee, Henderson, Conant, and Hypes.

B A S E B A L L

Although only having completed ten games of the schedule, the Blue baseball team has given a good account of itself considering the opposition, winning 5 while losing 5.

The returning lettermen who formed the backbone of the team are Conant, Randolph, Henderson, Chappell, and Bill Hypes who was elected captain of this year's team. Excellent new prospects included Elmer Rich, Hobart and Bluford, who made up the outfield. Composing the Blue hurling staff were Gantt, Shell, Carroll, and Sailor, who alternated at the pitching post. In the infield Bill Hypes handled the "hot" corner, Chappell played shortstop, Henderson took care of second, Randolph played first effectively, and Conant handled the catching assignments.

Blue Ridge, Sand Hill, Christ School, and Farm School include the list of the vanquished, while the Blues were defeated by Canton twice, Brevard College twice, and Candler.

TRACK

By winning their opening meets with comparative ease, the Blue track team demonstrated that they had the makings of a powerful squad. Aided greatly by newly uncovered talent, combined with the return of four lettermen, head coach "Hop" Arbogast and Mr. Brooks rapidly developed the team into a winning combination.

Specializing in the distance runs were Wilbur Ellis and Dave Heenan, who ran the 440 and 880, and mile respectively, while brother Billy Ellis ably handled the dashes, Bill Heedy on the hurdles, Bill Bailey on the high jump, javalin, and discus, Wilbur Ellis a capable broad jumper, Clewis Howell and Taylor Hardwick in the field events, and Dick Steketee on the pole-vault, shot-put, and high jump, rounded out a well-balanced squad.

The Blues annexed their initial win of the season by defeating a strong Greenville team 66 to 56. This was closely followed by a victory over Brevard College, which the Blues won in easy fashion 79½ to 42½. Three additional meets have been scheduled, one a quadrangular, and Asheville is confidently looking forward to victories which would give them an undefeated season.

SOCCER

Greatly handicapped by bad weather and snow flurries, the soccer team, under the guidance of Mr. Borg, lost one game and tied a second in their two scheduled contests. The team consisted of Captain Dave Heenan, and Elmer Rich wings, insides Zukowski and Roosevelt, center Billy Ellis, halfbacks Mercer, Burnham, Fellows and Huntington, fullbacks Bluford and Mort Prentis, and goalie Bobby Carr. It would be exceedingly difficult to single out any outstanding individual, although special mention can be afforded to Dave Heenan, Billy Ellis, Elmer Rich and Dave Bluford who played very well during the current season. Seniors Heenan, Ellis, Mercer and Bluford, who are graduating this year, will be heavily missed by next year's squad.

Venturing to Chattanooga, the Blues were defeated in their first contest by a powerful McCallie aggregation 4 to 2. The game was played on extremely muddy turf and little progress was made by either team until early in the second half. Challenging McCallie in a return match, the Blues partially recovered their lost prestige by battling the over-rated opposition to a 4 to 4 deadlock. The Blues, led by Captain Heenan, grabbed an early lead and completely dominated the play in the first half. Considering a 4 to 1 lead comparatively safe the Blues weakened considerably in the second half and allowed McCallie to tie the score, and the game ended in a deadlock, neither team threatening in the two overtimes.

CREW

Although handicapped by bad weather, the crew, under the tutorship of P. G. Coffey, practiced diligently and whipped itself into a formidable eight. This year the crew participated in two races, doing remarkably well against the stiffest sort of opposition. Although losing to Tampa College by two lengths, they regained their prestige by soundly trouncing the Rollins crew by five lengths.

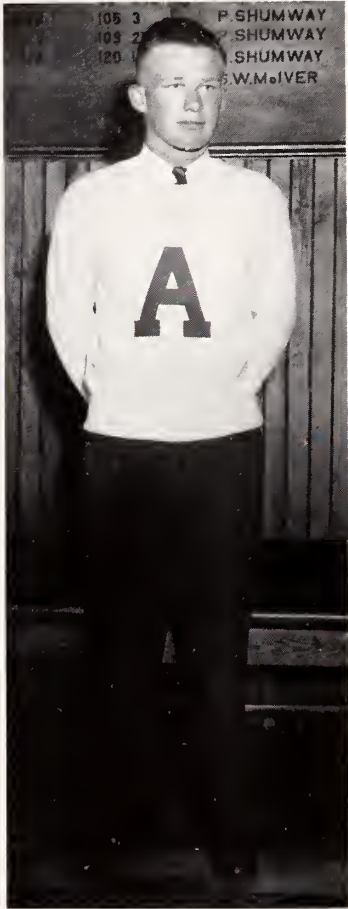

The following members composed the first eight: Crawford, stroke; L. Lipscomb, 7; Alexander, 6; Wolff, 5; Lanman, 4; McPherson, 3; Widman, 2; and Rose, bow. The position of coxswain was capably held by Patterson. With no more scheduled races, the school now anxiously awaits the results of the Blue and White races.

THE change from peacetime production to war production at Firestone has been a smooth transition. Here are a few examples of how peacetime machinery and equipment are being used to produce essential war materials.

Tire vulcanizing equipment is now being used to cure bullet-sealing fuel and oil tanks for airplanes.

Rubberized fabric facilities are now being used to build barrage balloons.

Machine shop for making molds furnished the labor and tools needed for making anti-aircraft gun mounts and carriages.

Vulcanizing equipment, built for huge earth-mover tires, is used to cure tires for bombers.

Experience in metal stampings is now used to turn out metallic belt links for machine gun cartridges.

Equipment used for making metal beverage containers is now used to make oxygen tanks.

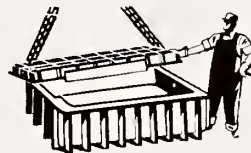

Experience in making rail tie plates is used to make tracks for tanks.

Volume 33 of the BLUE AND WHITE takes its place beside its thirty-two predecessors — a long, unbroken line of Asheville School yearbooks.

We hope that this volume measures up to the traditional quality of the BLUE AND WHITE and to the high standards of the School.

It has been a pleasure to work with the Staff and the Faculty Adviser in its design and production.
